We are seeking a candidate with:

- Bachelor's degree in environmental education, elementary education, or a related field. May accept relevant experience in lieu of a degree.
- Experience working with children, ideally in an educational setting.
- The ability to identify and interpret local flora and fauna, including invasive species, and to share that knowledge with age groups ranging from toddlers to seniors.
- A passion and understanding of the environment and sustainability, and the ability to clearly explain scientific concepts at an age appropriate level..
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills, both written and verbal.
- Strong presentation and public speaking abilities.
- Ability to plan and implement engaging and age-appropriate educational programs.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Adaptability and flexibility to work with diverse audiences and in various settings.
- Ability to work outdoors in various weather conditions.
- A background check is required.
